PROSPECT THE COUNTRY DAY SCHOOL MANNE SCHOOL SCHOOL

1964

Headmistress' Address

SUAVITER IN MODO— FORTITER IN RE . . .

And so, thirteen more fine young people have climbed to the top of Prospect Hill. In this climb there have been hardships and problems; but also love, laughter, and friendships. Now the "Prospects" of the future are ahead—a new world of sharing and learning, and serving; for after all, what is life if there is no sacrifice. To each member of this class I say:

"You are our future to which we look with confidence; so, climb every 'hill' with courage and strength; with patience and understanding; and above all, with gentleness in manner, strength in deed."

Jean Von Deesten Hooper

Foreword

As we, the Class of 1964, approach the summit of our years here at school, Prospect Hill and its name realize a new significance and depth to each one of us. For Prospect Hill symbolizes not only the reality of the present, but achievements of the past and prospects of the future. Our first hill in life-here we began to learn and to grow; we began to know ourselves and the individuality of others, too. Now that the time for parting has come, we realize that the present is but a striving for the dreams of the future and, in a more regretful way, a gathering up of the memories of the past. As we look around, the future stretches out before us; its prospects are ours to wonder about, to anticipate, and to fulfill. Our feet hesitate to take the step which will separate us from each other and from the hill; yet let us remember that the hills we now seek are essentially the same—those of Truth, Self-knowledge, and Understanding. May this book, then, be not a legacy to the past but a living experience of the present.

Dedication

Miss Rosalie Suranyi

To Miss Rosalie Suranyi, whose kindness, patience, and sincerity of purpose have placed her high in the affection of our class, and whose quiet understanding has been a reassurance to us all, we, the class of Nineteen Hundred and Sixty-Four, gratefully dedicate this, our yearbook.

Student Council

The Student Council, an honorary organization, is composed of a representative elected from each class in the Upper School and Senior officers. The Secretary and Treasurer are chosen from the Junior class, while the President and Chief Justice are chosen from the Senior class. The representatives express the thoughts of their class members concerning such problems and ideas as the Fair, the magazine campaign, and school dances. Each member is also obligated to express the wishes of the student body as a whole. It is due to this group that student discipline is carried out through the use of the demerit system. This system has proved to be very advantageous and few infractions of the rules have been noted.

National Honor Society

Founded in 1959, the Prospect Hill chapter of the National Honor Society was created to stimulate an enthusiasm for scholarship, leadership, and service.

The Honor Society participates in many school functions. It has a separate table at the Fair, posts special bulletins, and provides activities for its members.

New members are announced in June at Commencement exercises where they are presented with a gold pin and a card signifying membership. Every student at Prospect Hill should strive for this great honor.

Athletic Association

The Athletic Association is a group of five elected representatives from the Upper School. The president of the Association is elected by the student body. This office, taken by a member of the senior class, is currently held by Joan Kresler.

Mrs. Jeanette Taylor and Mrs. Charlene Tarver are the directors of our program at the Newark YM-YWCA. With their help we now have a basketball team, a modern dance program, and instructions in the fundamentals of many other sports. Some of these are swimming, volleyball, and tennis.

Glee Club

The Glee Club this year was once again under the direction of Mrs. Collins. At the beginning of the year, she divided our group of forty girls into three sections: Soprano I, Soprano II, and Alto. She then began to carefully train us for all our many concerts.

The first was the traditional Christmas concert with the Lower School. It has always been warmly received, and, as usual, it was a great success. We then gave two concerts with Newark Academy, instead of only the annual one, and we also gave a concert with the Hun School. "The Chord", a special group of twelve girls which was organized last year, sang at each of these concerts.

In order to wind up the busy and successful year, the Glee Club will, according to tradition, perform at our graduation exercises.

Le Cercle Français

Le Cercle Français is the Prospect Hill French Club. It was created to stimulate more enthusiasm for conversational French and French culture. Any student may join if she shows keen interest. When a member participates in the activities of the club, to the best of her ability, she is presented with a pin signifying membership. The club consists of two groups. Each member is placed according to her fluency in the language.

The members annually elect a president, vice-president, treasurer, secretary, and activities director. Committees are voluntarily organized to help plan and carry out the activities of the club.

In the fall of this year, a group of girls in the Senior I class decided that it would be a good experience to revive the school newspaper, Spilled Ink. With hard work and persistence, the upperclassmen produced the first newspaper in December. Although they have not been able to publish many issues, the girls hope that more students will develop an interest in work of this kind and will help to produce Spilled Ink more frequently. Articles of all types are written by students of all ages and include such columns as: Book Review, short stories, poems, interviews, current news and items of importance to the students. Mrs. Meyers is our adviser.

School Notes

SEPTEMBER—The school year opened with new extra-curricular activities. A basketball team was formed and a school newspaper, Spilled Ink, was published.

OCTOBER—The Lower School children, dressed in costumes, had their annual Halloween party.

NOVEMBER—At the P. T. A.'s annual "Parents Go-to-School Night" the parents had a chance to experience the challenges of school life by going around to their children's classes. The theme of our School Fair, which was held on November 16, was "Medieval Fayr". The decorations and costumes that the Seniors wore were in the Middle Age style. The entire school celebrated Thanksgiving by filling Thanksgiving baskets.

DECEMBER—The Christmas season was made complete by a program of seasonal music in which the entire school participated.

JANUARY—The Upper School was busily studying and taking exams from January 27—January 31.

FEBRUARY—On February 6 our basketball team played against the team from Bergen School. The cheering for our school came from the girls of the Upper School who attended. In the beginning of the month we had our first dinner-dance with the Pennington School. It was held at our school. The Father-Daughter Dinner, which was started two years ago, was held on February 13. Seven girls from the Upper School represented our school at the Religious Conference at Buck Hill Falls.

MARCH—The Spring season was felt throughout the school before we went on vacation which started March 13 after school.

APRIL—In April many of the girls of the Upper School attended the Metropolitan Opera performance of "LaBoheme" in New York. The P. T. A. presented a program in which Mrs. Hooper spoke on "The Inner Workings of Prospect Hill School". On April 18 the Alumnae Luncheon was held at "The Arch" in Short Hills. Also on April 18 was the Glee Club Concert with the Hun School at Hun School. During the last week of April there was a Dance Recital for the Lower School. A Tea followed the recital.

MAY—The Pet Show which was held on the grounds of Prospect Hill was held during the second week of May. On May 13 the combined Glee Clubs of Prospect Hill and Newark Academy presented their annual concert at the Academy. On May 16 the Mother-Daughter Luncheon was at Rod's Restaurant in West Orange. The girls from the Upper School spent an enjoyable day at Stratford, Connecticut for the Shakespearean play "Much Ado About Nothing". There was the annual Art Exhibition on May 25. A Musical Program followed.

JUNE—On Class Day the Senior Seat was awarded to the Class of 1965, and the Seniors presented their annual skit. Commencement exercises were on June 11 and pointed out that the school year had come to an end. At the end of the exercises the Class of 1964 received their gold stars.
